

GAME WARDEN COMPANY OF TWO MEN WHEN SEEN

Murdered Man Had Spoken to B. R. Boots and H. M. Snively Near Canyon Where Killed

"HAD GOODS" ON HIS PRISONERS, HE SAID

Luigi Scalva and C. Pasquale Will Be Given Third Degree

OAKLAND, Feb. 6.—Two alien laborers—Luigi Scalva and C. Pasquale—who are known to have returned to their home in Stage late Sunday night with shotguns and blood stains on their clothes, were arrested at 7:15 o'clock tonight on the assumption that they know something of the murder of State Game Warden Bert Blanchard, whose shot riddled body was found in Wild Cat canyon.

The men were taken from Stage to the Richmond jail by Detective Sergeant R. W. Ruiz and Detective Charles Walker, who made the arrests. Now the police are administering the third degree and making efforts to locate two witnesses who saw the game warden Sunday afternoon with two alien prisoners whom he had arrested for shooting a pair of robins.

One of these is R. Boots, a civil engineer who lives at 1010 Ellis street, San Francisco, and the other is H. M. Snively, a geologist of 3723 Randolph street, Oakland. Yesterday they told Chief Arnold of the Richmond police force and Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county that they were shooting at a target Sunday afternoon when Warden Blanchard came up with two aliens who were carrying shotguns.

BLANCHARD ASKED BOOTS WHAT THEY WERE DOING, AFTER EXPLAINING THAT HE WAS A GAME WARDEN. HE THEN DISPLAYED TWO ROBINS AND DECLARED HE "HAD THE GOODS ON" HIS PRISONERS, WHO APPEARED DEEPLY CHAGRINED. STRANGELY ENOUGH, THE FIVE ACTORS IN THE TRAGEDY THEN ENGAGED IN A TARGET SHOOTING MATCH—THE WARDEN, HIS TWO PRISONERS, THE ENGINEER AND THE GEOLOGIST.

This story was verified in a measure by Chief Arnold, who went to the spot where they said they held the shooting match and found a target placed to a tree. Picking out some of the shot, he discovered several varieties of lead pellets. Some of these are expected to tally with shot extracted from shells confiscated at the home of the prisoners.

AFTER THE SHOOTING MATCH, ACCORDING TO BOOTS AND SNIVELY, THE WARDEN MOVED TOWARD WARDEN BLANCHARD'S PRISONERS FOLLOWING HIM. BOTH WERE CARRYING THEIR GUNS IN THE HOLLOW OF THEIR ARMS. FIFTEEN MINUTES, OR PERHAPS 20, LATER THEY HEARD A SHOT FROM THE CANYON. THE WARDEN DECIDED BLANCHARD HAD FIRED AT A BIRD.

CHIEF ARNOLD WALKED FROM THE TREE WHERE THE TARGET WAS PINNED TO THE SPOT IN THE CANYON WHERE THE BODY OF BLANCHARD WAS FOUND. HE WAS ON A HIGH PATH AND HE FOUND THAT WHEN HE REACHED THE SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY A MILE DISTANT, IT HAD TAKEN HIM A QUARTER OF AN HOUR TO TALK HIS WAY DOWN.

THE CIVIL ENGINEER AND THE GEOLOGIST WENT TO RICHMOND AND VIEWED THE BODY OF BLANCHARD AND DECLARED POSITIVELY THAT IT WAS THE SAME MAN WHO SHOT A MATCH WITH HIS PRISONERS AND THEM ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

Governor Johnson has been asked by the state fish and game commission to offer a reward for the arrest of the murderers of the dead game warden. Robert Duke, attorney for the commission, today conferred with Sheriff Barnett of Alameda with Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county and with Chief of Police Arnold of Richmond.

Sheriff Barnett found a man today who declared he saw Blanchard Sunday morning surveying the slopes of Wild Cat canyon with a field glass. Observing two men in hunting suits on the opposite slope carrying a white sack, presumably a four bag, Blanchard said: "I think I'll have a look after those fellows," and started after them. These men are known to have been squirrel poisoners from a camp in the hills, and they carried poison in the sack and dropped it down the squirrel holes. When found it is expected they may be able to tell something of the unfortunate officer's movements.

The autopsy held upon the body at Richmond disclosed that Blanchard was shot from behind, thus removing all doubts that the fatal wound was not self-inflicted.

Late tonight the man, Scalva, was taken to the morgue in Richmond and placed in a dark room with the body of Blanchard. The lights were flashed on suddenly, but the severe test failed to shake the courage of the Italian, who protested he never had seen the murdered game warden. Scalva was returned to his cell.

LEAGUE CALLS FOR ALL ANTI-WELLER PETITIONS

Convinced Required Number of Names Can Be Obtained Within Week

As a climax of more than six weeks' unceasing endeavor the Women's Recall league yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution calling for the return, within one week, of petitions bearing indorsements for the recall of Police Judge Charles Weller.

Convinced that the required number of names would be obtained by that time, the league also announced that the petitions would be presented before the election commission within 10 days after they had been returned to the campaign headquarters.

This action, one of the most definite steps by the organization since its inception, followed close upon the conclusion of a spirited meeting, at which the members of the Mission District Mother's Union listened to addresses by league officials and set the stamp of their approval on the recall movement.

PLAYGROUNDS REDUCE JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

Figures Show Since They Have Been in Full Operation Number Decreases a Half

At a meeting of the playground commission yesterday Rev. D. O. Crowley, chairman, appointed Mrs. M. S. Hayward, Miss Agnes G. Regan and Marshall Hale as a committee to entertain the visiting delegates of the playground congress shortly to hold a convention in this city.

Joseph R. Hickey, secretary, at the request of the board of supervisors, was directed to prepare a budget of estimates for the commission for the ensuing fiscal year. Superintendent Schlitter presented a report of the improvements on the various grounds.

He stated that a demonstration would be held on the Jackson playgrounds Wednesday afternoon, February 26, and said the attendance at the playgrounds is increasing and declared as a municipal investment they are invaluable. Since the present grounds have been put in full operation, he stated, the number of children taken before the juvenile court has decreased at least 50 per cent.

ATTORNEY KNIGHT BECOMES VIOLENT

Declares District Attorney Runs Office in Interest of Legal Firm

Grand Jury Indictments Purchasable at Will, He Asserts

"The charge I make is that District Attorney Fickert in other cases, as in this, runs his office at the behest of either side that retains, Brennan and Lane," asserted George A. Knight, summing up in the divorce suit of Nat against Anita Feder Lichtenstein yesterday.

Mr. Knight devoted five minutes of a torrid flow of words directed at the district attorney and his office, alleging that sufficient activity on the part of Mr. Fickert's office would furnish ample material for a recall and declaring that he would prove the charges.

"I claim and will prove," cried Mr. Knight, "that the district attorney has indirectly taken part in this case and that the activity, almost in his office, is sufficient to subject him to recall. 'What business has Stanley Moore or his office behind the scenes in the Lichtenstein case?' demanded the husband's attorney, alluding to the presence of Mr. Moore at Mr. Fickert's office before Moore was retained as counsel in the divorce case. 'What right have either parties in a divorce case to go into a district attorney's office and procure continuance, dismissal or immediate trial?'"

Mr. Knight asked Mr. Moore point-blank if he had been interested in the criminal case before Judge B. V. Sargent and Mr. Moore declared that he had not.

Mr. Knight declared that Mr. Moore had prostituted the office of the district attorney and then took up the fact that the grand jury had indicted his client and others for conspiracy to manufacture evidence against Mrs. Lichtenstein.

"Why a grand jury indictment means nothing in San Francisco," Knight continued. "They are purchasable and procurable as you may buy horses. We had scores of indictments four years ago with not a scintilla of evidence, and the cases remained on the court dockets until dismissed. Why, the use of the prosecutor's office to collect bad debts and bring back runaway wives is known to the people, and the people know that grand jury indictments mean nothing."

Mr. Knight then reviewed the testimony in the case from the viewpoint of the husband, and Judge Graham took the matter under submission, stating that he would give his decision in a few days.

What Club Formed.—A committee consisting of Mrs. Herbert Thomas, Mrs. Ernest Benson, Mrs. M. Gallagher, Mrs. George Deffino, Mrs. William Hopkins, Mrs. Daniel Sawyer and Mrs. William Stanton met at the residence of Mrs. George D. O'Neil, Nineteenth avenue, Sunset, last Wednesday afternoon and formed a whist club.

SERVICE CORPORATIONS WILL BE RESTRICTED

Plan Proposed to Lay All Pipes and Wires Under Sidewalks

Two important steps controlling and restricting public service corporations in tearing up streets for underground systems were taken by the supervisors' street committee yesterday.

An ordinance held invalid by City Attorney Long was amended and recommended. The section which gave the board of works discretionary power in granting permits for opening trenches was stricken out.

The ordinance will compel corporations to place a deposit guaranteeing proper reparation, to pay a $1 fee for a permit to meet the cost of inspection, to bridge all trenches while work is under way and to complete it within a specified time or pay a fine.

Supervisor Jennings' proposed ordinance requiring public service companies to place pipes, conduits, wires and other parts of their underground systems beneath sidewalks instead of streets was referred to the city engineer with the request that he furnish data which will aid in drafting a thorough and comprehensive bill. The ordinance will not compel corporations to take up pipes already installed.

The law and legislative committee of the council was instructed to carefully investigate the bills now before the legislature in re the removal of bodies from the local cemeteries and to report fully upon these; also on the methods proposed by local men to move bodies. These methods were denounced as "a huge graft that will impose an onerous tax upon working men who have relatives buried in the cemeteries." It was stated that in this matter Archbishop Riordan has acted with utmost fairness with regard to the removals from Calvary cemetery.

On complaint of Painters' union No. 19 the business agents were instructed to wait on the authorities with a request that "the practice of having prisoners in the county jail do painting on and in the prison under the supervision of the superintendent and Sheriff Eggers."

The president was authorized to appoint a committee to entertain W. J. Spencer, secretary of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, who will be in this city next week to attend a session of the executive council of the department that is to meet February 17 in Los Angeles. After that meeting there will be a conference of officers of national building trades associations and officers of the California State Building Trades council to discuss trade conditions on the Pacific coast.
